PREAMBLE

The international poster competition of Chaumont was launched in 1990 in order to value poster design on an international scale. The posters sent in by the designers for the competition are at the origin of a collection that now includes more than 45000 pieces conserved in Chaumont.

The quality of the contemporary poster collections of Chaumont, associated with a collection of illustrated posters from the late 19th century and the vitality of the 27 editions of an annual festival have allowed for the creation of a permanent venue in Chaumont entirely dedicated to graphic design: le Signe, centre national du graphisme, that opened its doors in October 2016.

The presentation of the Chaumont International Poster Competition will take place in 2019 during the 28th Graphic Design Biennial organized by le Signe, centre national du graphisme (Center National of Graphic Design) from 23 May to 9 June 2019.

ADMISSIBILITY CRITERIA

The international poster competition is intended for all professionals, independent or employee, working for the public or private sector, regardless of their age or nationality. The posters must have been commissioned or have lived in a real context (e.g. a demonstration).

Considering screens as a new medium for poster display, “animated posters” may be submitted to the appreciation of the jury under the condition that they have been commissioned. Whether it is a loop or an interactive object, the URL where the jury can consult these posters intended for screens must be mentioned in the appropriate field.

The organisation reserves the right to refuse projects containing elements that are hateful, obscene, discriminating, racist, xenophobic, homophobic, sexist or inciting to racial hatred. Any entry containing such elements shall be disqualified.

DATE OF CREATION CRITERIA

Only posters that were created within the last three years, i.e. 2017, 2018 and 2019 can be entered in the competition, regardless of their subject, their dimensions, their commissioners and the number of authors involved in the creation.

Posters that have already been entered in preceding editions of the competition cannot be considered a second time for this present edition.

QUANTITY

The authors have the possibility of presenting posters as individual works or as series constituting a set (a series of several pieces corresponds to one work). Each participant in the competition can enter up to three projects. The on-line form makes this distinction possible.

JURY AND EXHIBITION

An international jury composed four qualified personalities or studios, renowned in the field of graphic design comes together in Chaumont for several days in order to consider the posters entered by the participants. The jury selects approximately 400 posters that will be exhibited during the Biennial and chooses three posters or series of posters that will receive the mentions of “Grand Prix”, “Prix Espoir” and “Prix du Public” of the Chaumont International Poster Competition”.

The selection is entirely made by the jury based on printed posters physically received in Chaumont. No printed poster can be selected merely based on a digital file or a photograph.

PRIZES AND CEREMONY

The jury members of the 28th edition of the Chaumont International Poster Competition shall designate three award winning posters corresponding to three cash prizes.

The authors of the prizewinning posters will receive the following sums (in Euros):

- 3000 € for the Grand Prix
- 1500 € for the Prix Espoir
- 4000 € for the Prix du Public

Description of the prizes:

- The Grand Prix rewards the poster or series whose visual, formal, experimental, informative, editorial, sensitive qualities have been acclaimed by the jury for its contribution to graphic design;

- The Prix Espoir highlights a poster or a series by a young author (until 35 years old) whose creation has been praised as exemplary in the context of a commission;

- The Prix du Public allows everyone to acknowledge an outstanding poster of the international selection by an online vote. A poster or a series cannot be awarded more than one prize. All work competing for the Prix Espoir is in competition for the Grand Prix.

The awards ceremony will take place in Chaumont on Saturday, 25 May 2019.
