

Jean-François Rey - Typographie et Bandes dessinées

Exhibition
11 July to 4 October
2020

Curator: Jean-Noël Lafargue

In France, the Ministry of Culture has dedicated the year 2020 to the art of the comics. This year, le Signe thus continues its investigations into the relationships between text and image, through the exploration of typography in this unique media.

The exhibition “Jean-François Rey — Type design and Comics” deals with the inherent questions of contemporary type design in the field of cartoon art. Jean-François Rey, co-founder of Incandescence, is one of the unfairly neglected actors of typefaces and adaptations applied to comics.

During his career, his various collaborations led him to meet Charles Burns, Robert Crumb, Mark Bell, on behalf of the editions Cornelius, David B., Dupuy & Berbérien for Association publishings, as well as Marion Montaigne for her recent best-seller “Dans la combi de Thomas Pesquet”.

The exhibition will also be an opportunity to show the development of digital tools used in typeface design.

Come and discover all the typographic secrets behind the cartoons by Marion Montaigne, Charles Berberian, Pierre La Police, Romain Dutreix, Aude Picault, Bastien Vivès, Robert Crumb, Charles Burns, Daniel Clowes, Chester Brown, Mark Bell, Rupport et Mulot, and many others!
